Product Designer - InPost UK, London

Nov 2022 – present

- Led end-to-end design for the UK consumer app, supporting a product used by over 3 million active users, by driving discovery, research, prototyping and delivery across cross-functional teams.
- Scaled the UK design system into a reusable product foundation used across mobile, web and parcel machine experiences, by creating components, patterns and documentation.
- Influenced product strategy for complex customer journeys by conducting research, usability testing and rapid design iterations that informed roadmap decisions.
- Enabled cross-market product consistency by adapting the Polish consumer app for the UK market and contributing to shared design patterns across European teams
- Improved collaboration between product, engineering and design by introducing UX rituals, design critiques and structured feedback processes.
- Raised design quality and delivery confidence by validating concepts with users before development and partnering closely with engineers throughout implementation.
- Strengthened the product design team by mentoring junior designers and supporting recruitment for product design and UX research positions.
- Contributed to the UK digital brand experience by designing customer-facing web experiences and supporting the UK website redesign.

UX Designer - Pixeled Eggs, London

Aug 2019 - Oct 2022

- Delivered end-to-end digital products for clients across healthcare, mobility, sustainability and emerging technology by combining ux research, interaction design and visual design.
- Translated complex business and user requirements into intuitive digital experiences by facilitating workshops, stakeholder interviews and usability testing.
- Improved design consistency and delivery efficiency by creating scalable design systems, reusable UI components and design documentation.
- Bridged strategy, branding and product design by transforming research insights into cohesive digital experiences and visual systems.
